Capital Conference housing reservations open soon
Reservations for Capital Conference hotel rooms begin at 9 a.m., Sept. 13 on a first-come, first-served basis. You must be registered for the conference or exhibiting in the Trade Show to request conference housing. To receive the housing link and unique housing code before conference housing opens, your registration must be received no later than 3 p.m., Thursday, Sept. 7. The housing link and code will be sent after 3 p.m. on Monday, Sept. 11 to the email of the person listed as your housing contact on your registration form. For a list of hotels for which OSBA has room blocks and more information, visit http://conference.ohioschoolboards.org/housing.

Celebrate National Hispanic Heritage Month
Schools and communities are urged to find ways to celebrate Hispanic heritage and culture and the positive influence they have on the nation during National Hispanic Heritage Month, Sept. 15 to Oct. 15. Today, 55 million people or 17% of the American population are of Hispanic or Latino origin, representing a significant increase from 2000, according to www.hispanicheritagemonth.org. The website provides more information and resources school districts can use to plan activities and lessons. Also visit http://links.ohioschoolboards.org/28004 and http://links.ohioschoolboards.org/74999 for more ideas.

Media Honor Roll program deadline approaching
Districts have until Sept. 15 to select journalists for the 2017 OSBA Media Honor Roll. The program offers districts a way to provide recognition to their local reporters for fair, accurate and balanced school coverage. It also promotes the value of building good relationships with the media to encourage fair reporting. OSBA sends districts personalized certificates to present to honorees and provides a sample resolution and press release, which can be downloaded from the association’s website. For details and to make selections, visit www.ohioschoolboards.org/media-honorroll.

OSBA’s Rob Delane retires after years of service
OSBA Deputy Executive Director Rob Delane retired Aug. 2, after 17 years with OSBA. Prior to joining the association in 2000, Delane served for more than 30 years as a music director, assistant principal, principal and superintendent, including serving for 12 years as superintendent at Lucas Local (Richland). While at OSBA, Delane served as deputy director of board member services and director of school board services before being named deputy executive director in 2007. OSBA Director of Legislative Services Damon Asbury will serve as interim deputy executive director until a replacement is hired.
OSBA accepting reservations for regional fall conferences

OSBA’s fall region conferences will be held in September and October across the state. They feature dinner, awards, region officer elections, student performing groups, networking opportunities and updates on public education issues and OSBA events. For reservation forms and agendas, visit www.ohioschoolboards.org/regions. Click on your region’s link and download the fall conference reservation form under “Resources” and “file attachments.” For more information, see the blue pages in this issue.

Student Achievement Fair seeks outstanding programs

Districts can still nominate outstanding programs for the Student Achievement Fair, one of the most popular and rewarding events at the OSBA Capital Conference in November. The fair highlights 100 exemplary programs that promote student achievement; five student performing groups; and an art exhibit. The fair is open from 10:30 a.m. to 2 p.m. on Tuesday, Nov. 14. Districts can submit nominations at http://links.ohioschoolboards.org/16445.

Food truck delivers nutritious meals to students

Hamilton City Schools has rolled out its first food truck, a new mobile outreach to ensure students are receiving nutritious meals throughout the year.

The truck, which cost about $80,000 and was funded through grants, will be stationed outside various district schools and school events so students will have access to nutritious meals and snacks beyond the school day and during summer break.

About 70% of the district’s roughly 10,000 students rely on reduced-price school meals.

“We know that our students and our community have needs that go on 12 months out of the year,” Hamilton City Business Manager Larry L. Knapp told a local newspaper.

State budget, association’s vision highlight OSBA trustees meeting

The OSBA Board of Trustees learned more about the final biennial state budget and its impact on public education and had a healthy discussion with the state superintendent of public instruction during its July 22 meeting. OSBA President Denise Baba, Streetsboro City, led the meeting. Trustees also received an overview of the association’s proposed reauthorization of its Visionary Initiatives for Strategic Action (VISA) for the next five years.

The biennial budget — House Bill (HB) 49 — provides $16.8 billion for education, with the formula for per-pupil spending slightly increasing to $6,010 in fiscal year (FY) 2018 and $6,020 in FY 2019. Categorical aid for

OSBA deputy executive director position available

The Ohio School Boards Association is seeking applicants for the position of deputy executive director. This individual will manage the association in the absence of the executive director, represent the association on educational issues and assist the executive director in continuous monitoring and evaluation of the programs, services and needs of the association. The deputy executive director also will coordinate the implementation of the association’s strategic plan and oversee membership engagement and retention.

Candidates must have excellent oral and written communications skills, a strong background in public speaking, a college degree in business, management, educational leadership or a related field and experience in senior leadership. Association and educational experience as well as a Certified Association Executive (CAE) credential is a plus. Applicants should submit a cover letter, resume and salary expectations by Sept. 8, 2017, to: Deputy Executive Director Search, Ohio School Boards Association, 8050 N. High St., Ste. 100, Columbus OH 43235. Resumes and/or cover letters that do not include salary expectations will not be considered. EOE n economically disadvantaged students and those with special needs remains at the 2017 levels.

“This was essentially a flat-funded budget,” OSBA Director of Legislative Services Damon Asbury told trustees. “There’s a $10 per-pupil increase in the first year of the biennium and another $10 increase in the second year. That translates into very little additional money, about 1%.”

Superintendent of Public Instruction Paolo DeMaria said the Ohio Department of Education (ODE) is working with the resources and funding provided by the General Assembly.

His discussion with trustees touched on the biennial budget; Ohio’s plan for the Every Student Succeeds Act (ESSA), the federal government’s reauthorization of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act of 1965; and graduation requirements, among other topics.

Changes in HB 49 add multiple ways to earn a diploma, such as good senior year attendance, community service, employment and completing a senior capstone project. The changes only apply to the class of 2018.

“At the end of the day, nobody wants to be in a position where you have thousands of students not graduating,” DeMaria said. “But at the same time, we want to adhere to the notion that students are well-prepared for whatever

OSBA Board Candidate Workshops

Are you retiring from a board? Do you anticipate an opening on your board of education? If so, OSBA encourages you and others on your board to consider community members who have the potential to be great board members. Please invite and encourage them — and others — to attend one of five OSBA Board Candidate Workshops.

These sessions, conducted by OSBA experts, will lead candidates through a concise and valuable program to help them better understand the everyday roles and responsibilities of school board members and the legal aspects of being a board member. The cost to attend is $95.

The dates and locations are:

Aug. 30 — Northeast Ohio Medical University, Rootstown
Sept. 12 — Ohio University Inn, Athens
Sept. 7 — Hilton Garden Inn Dayton South, Miamisburg
Sept. 11 — Hilton Garden Inn, Findlay
Sept. 16 — OSBA office, Columbus

Directions to each location are on the OSBA website at www.ohioschoolboards.org/workshops. All sessions (except Sept. 16) run from 6 p.m. to 9 p.m., with registration and buffet beginning at 5:30 p.m. The Sept. 16 session runs from 9 a.m. to noon (registration begins at 8:30 a.m.).

For those unable to attend a workshop, a Board Candidate Webinar will be held Sept. 21 from 1 p.m. to 2 p.m. This webinar can be purchased after Sept. 30 to view at your convenience. The webinar covers board roles and responsibilities and legal and campaign finance issues. The cost of the webinar is $50 (price includes sales tax).

To register, contact Laurie Miller, OSBA senior events manager, at (614) 540-4000, (800) 589-OSBA or Lmiller@ohioschoolboards.org.
comes after high school.”

HB 49 also eliminated the fourth- and sixth-grade state social studies tests. DeMaria had recommended broader changes to include one of the social studies tests, two high school end-of-course exams and the WorkKeys test for students wanting to earn a diploma through the industry credential pathway.

“There’s a strongly held belief that we need to be flexible and give students opportunities to demonstrate what they know and are able to do and go beyond standardized assessment,” he added.

Trustees later reviewed OSBA’s draft VISA document, crafted over two days by a committee of board members and OSBA staff earlier this year. The outline features four goals, including:

- Public school board of education members and their leadership teams value and use OSBA as the source of assistance, guidance, unity and support to successfully govern their districts.
- Ohioans will value, respect and support public education.
- Students of all backgrounds and abilities receive a high-quality education to prepare them for lifelong success.
- OSBA embraces innovative, strategic and effective association management practices.

“Our goal is to bring a final version back to the board for approval during our November meeting,” OSBA Executive Director Richard Lewis said.

In other business, OSBA Chief Financial Officer Allison Morris briefed trustees on the association’s finances for the first half of 2017 and its investments. RSM US LLP Senior Manager Nick Waddell updated trustees on OSBA’s completed 2016 audit. The Dec. 31, 2016, audit received an unmodified opinion.

Lewis also informed trustees about National School Board Association activities and membership dues and announced the upcoming trustee self-assessment survey. Trustees conducted the first self-assessment in 2008.

Baba presented two resolutions honoring individuals with lifelong contributions to public education.

Asbury, who will retire Sept. 30 as director of legislative services, has lobbied on behalf of OSBA through five state biennial budgets, ensuring changes to the school funding formula did not impact districts negatively. He also has traveled the state to keep members informed about legislative issues.

Prior to coming to OSBA in April 2009, Asbury served as the superintendent of Worthington City Schools for nine years, as well as serving one year as president of the Buckeye Association of School Administrators (BASA). He spent 24 years at Columbus City Schools in various roles, including assistant superintendent and interim superintendent.

Baba also honored Dr. Jerry L. Klenke, who retired from public education after nearly five decades of distinguished service. His career includes service as BASA’s executive director; a teacher, counselor, principal and superintendent in numerous Ohio public school districts; director at ODE; adjunct professor at the University of Dayton; and clinical professor at Ashland University.

The next OSBA Board of Trustees meeting is Nov. 12 during the OSBA Capital Conference in Columbus. The board meets three times a year.
Plan now to attend the 2017 OSBA Treasurers' Clinics to be held around the state. These clinics provide the most current information on school district fiscal issues. New for 2017: We're pleased to announce that the Treasurers' Clinics have been approved for five continuing professional education (CPE) credits.

Management Development Series #4:
Early Intervention and De-escalation Techniques in Schools

Tuesday, Sept. 19 10 a.m. to 2 p.m.
OSBA office, Columbus Cost is $95

School safety is about more than the major incidents you hear about in the news. You need a well thought-out emergency management plan and a commitment to training staff in all aspects of school safety.

Join OSBA staff and an experienced Columbus police officer to explore emergency management plans, the importance of early intervention and de-escalation techniques that can be implemented when needed.

Registration begins at 9:30 a.m. Cost for the workshop is $95 and includes lunch and materials. Register online at www.ohioschoolboards.org/workshops or contact Laurie Miller, senior events manager, at (614) 540-4000, (800) 589-OSBA or Lmiller@ohioschoolboards.org.
OSBA Master of Transportation Administration (MTA) Program

Don’t miss the kickoff of the 2017-18 MTA program. This series of workshops will help those involved in student transportation better understand and perform day-to-day operations.

These half-day workshops — offered from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. — include a working lunch and time for questions. Each class is scheduled twice; participants may sign up for either session. Each class is $95 or you can purchase an MTA subscription for the workshop series; contact Diana Paulins, OSBA senior administrative assistant of policy services, for subscription information. All workshops will be at the OSBA office, 8050 N. High St., Columbus, 43235. Visit www.ohioschoolboards.org/transportation-training-programs to learn about the MTA certification program.

Workshop dates and descriptions

Sept. 13 or 20 — Routing and technology
In today’s school environment it is essential to maximize route efficiency and get the best use out of your buses. This also becomes key as we manage continuing driver shortages. No one can afford to run extra buses or run buses with only a few students on them. Look at proven strategies for determining how many buses you need, routing styles, cost analysis and technologies available to help with routing.

Oct. 18 or 25 — Personnel management
Transportation administrators must have some knowledge of labor practices to effectively manage their staffs. Discuss working with contracts, discipline, driver qualifications and evaluations and how to manage issues.

Nov. 29 or Dec. 6 — Transportation rules and regulations
Explore federal, state and local regulations and a checklist that every transportation department can use to measure its performance and compliance. This class is a favorite for new supervisors, veteran supervisors and other school administrators who are responsible for pupil transportation services.

Feb. 7 or 14 — The transportation handbook
Guidelines and procedures are essential and can be the manager’s best friend. Discuss the handbook development process, as well as what to include in the handbook and how to keep it current.

April 4 or 11 — Public relations and working with the media
Experience a “live interview” process to learn how to develop talking points and stay on target in an interview. Also learn how to build proactive media relationships.

May 2 or 9 — Designing your operational plan and building keys for success
Review how to put the operational plan together, including timelines and how to schedule or delegate projects. Discover how building support networks and stakeholder groups are key to your success.

Register online at www.ohioschoolboards.org/workshops. You also can purchase a subscription plan for all the workshops in this series. For questions about the program or to register, contact Diana Paulins at (614) 540-4000, (800) 589-OSBA or mta@ohioschoolboards.org.
Engagement: All Audiences, All Platforms

How to Get it All Done in the Age of Electronic Communication

Thursday, Oct. 5, 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. • Cost $155
OSBA office, 8050 N. High St., Columbus, (614) 540-4000

Facebook, Twitter and a dynamic website are a must, but how do you keep expanding to reach new audiences and audiences that move from platform to platform? How does a one-person department manage it all 24/7?

In this session, we will take a look at traditional methods of social media, new avenues that are cropping up and up-and-coming methods of electronic communication in an age of ever-changing platforms.

• How can you “beef up” traditional social media channels like Facebook and Twitter to increase the number of people who view, like and share your information?
• How to start — and maintain — a successful blog.
• Pinterest, Instagram, SnapChat ... what’s next?
• How do you manage photo permissions in an age of instant news? Can you stop to clear media waivers?
• Is it smart to train staff on these tools and let them fly?
• Do you let schools and staff have their own channels or does this fragment an audience?

Join us for this interactive, fast-paced session. You are sure to walk away with solid ideas for increasing your district or organization’s social media reach.

The cost is $155, which includes registration, materials, lunch and light refreshments. Register online at www.ohioschoolboards.org/workshops or contact Laurie Miller, OSBA senior events manager, at (614) 540-4000, (800) 589-OSBA or Lmiller@ohioschoolboards.org.

Looking for a new superintendent or treasurer? Look no further.

Finding and hiring the right superintendent or treasurer for your district will be among the most significant decisions you make as a board. The long-term impact and importance of this process and decision cannot be underestimated.

For more than 30 years, the OSBA search process has proven successful in nearly 1,000 executive searches for Ohio’s diverse school districts and other related organizations. No one does it better!

At one point in her life, Annette Crouch had aspirations to be a teacher. While she decided to pursue a different career path, OSBA’s new deputy director of business and finance welcomes the opportunity to support public education and the board members and districts who serve Ohio’s children.

“It’s a great opportunity,” said Crouch, who joined the association in July. “The thought of being able to indirectly help schools and try to have an impact on public education is meaningful to me.”

Crouch, whose children attend Gahanna-Jefferson City Schools, helps with association accounting, finance and budgeting and human resources, payroll and benefits. The business and finance division, led by Chief Financial Officer Allison Morris, also oversees insurance programs for school districts, OSBA investments and the OSBA Insurance Agency LLC.

Crouch takes over for Janice Smith, who retired at the end of June as senior deputy director of business and finance. Smith joined OSBA in 1998 and led OSBA’s by Scott Gerfen, assistant editor

Lowe’s supports school improvement projects

Lowe’s Toolbox for Education program provides grants to improve schools. Improvement projects should have a permanent impact, such as facility enhancement or landscaping projects. This year, the program is seeking ways to provide the tools to help educators and parent groups through educational challenges. Projects should fall into one of the following categories: technology upgrades, tools for STEM programs, facility renovations and safety improvements.

Maximum award: $5,000

Eligibility: K-12 schools or nonprofit parent group associated with K-12 schools

Deadline: Sept. 29

Funds for environmental service learning projects

Project Learning Tree is offering GreenWorks! grants for schools and youth organizations that propose environmental service-learning projects that link classroom learning to the real world. Students implement an action project they help design to green their school or improve an aspect of their neighborhood’s environment. The projects partner students with their school, local businesses and/or community organizations and provide opportunities for student leadership. Some examples of past grant projects include implementing recycling programs at school, conserving water and energy, establishing school gardens and outdoor classrooms, improving a forest or restoring a natural habitat.

Maximum award: $1,000
Eligibility: schools and youth organizations
Deadline: Sept. 30

Association welcomes new deputy director, policy associate
Proposed legislation would require local governments to establish a credit card use policy designed to better protect tax dollars from potential fraud. State Reps. Kirk Schuring (R-Canton) and Dave Greenspan (R-Westlake) introduced House Bill (HB) 312 in July in collaboration with Ohio Auditor of State Dave Yost to incorporate better safeguards and tighten credit card use by local governments, including school districts.

HB 312 would require school districts to have a board policy that includes provisions addressing:

- the officers or positions authorized to use credit cards;
- the types of expenses for which the credit card may be used;
- the procedure for using a credit card;
- how frequently the board or authority has credit cards reissued;
- the entity’s maximum credit card spending limit or limits;
- the actions or omissions by an officer or employee that qualify as misuse of a credit card.

The board policy would include all bank- and store-issued credit cards and any card allowing the holder to purchase goods or services on credit. The policy would not include any procurement, gasoline or telephone cards, or any other card where merchant category...

Teen entrepreneur starts customizable backpack company

When 16-year-old Emily Laine Miller makes her way through the halls of Olentangy Local’s (Delaware) Olentangy Liberty High School, she gets a thrill every time she spots one: a backpack she designed.

“You’re looking through a sea of JanSports and then you’re like, ‘Wait, that’s mine!”’ she told a local newspaper. “It was so exciting and honestly inspired me to really keep pushing for it.”

Emily, who was looking for a way to save for college, first announced her idea to sell backpacks with more room during a family dinner. From that conversation, the Laine Avenue backpack was born.

Once home-based, her business now shares a building with her mother’s advertising firm.

“Emily has always been full of ideas (for) as long as I can remember,” her mother, Lisa Laine Miller, said. “She’s always been making things, trying to figure out different things to sell, and she’s very artistic.”

Emily also is giving fellow teens a way to make money. With parental permission, they can become “backers” of Laine Avenue and earn commissions for each item sold through the business’ online store.

As for a college, Emily intends to major in something that will help her grow the business.

codes are in place as a system of control for the card’s use.

HB 312 would give districts two options for implementing the proposed new controls:

Option 1 — The Custody and Control Model would require a credit card policy in which the treasurer would have physical control over all credit cards, a system for individual card use and the name of the entity or district on the card. Districts would be required to have a system to check out cards and an itemized receipt from an individual who returns the card to the treasurer. If the employee using the card fails to provide the necessary information, he or she will be required to reimburse the entity or district. Any unpaid balances will constitute misuse of a credit card.

Option 2 — The Compliance Officer Model would be required for treasurers who do not have physical control of credit cards and districts that do not have their name on their credit cards. A required policy would include a procedure for using credit cards; who is authorized to use them; how often cards are reissued; credit limits for each issued card; and what qualifies as an allowable expense. The policy also requires a quarterly review process in which the fiscal officer and board review the number of district credit cards and active district credit cards and the credit limit for each card. The compliance officer, also required under this option, may not be the district treasurer, and must perform the quarterly review process. In addition, the compliance officer is prohibited from authorizing an individual’s credit card use and cannot be authorized to use a credit card.

HB 312 also bans the use of debit cards, with an exception for local law enforcement, and authorizes the state auditor to create rules for the disclosure and audit of credit card rewards accrued by districts and local governments.
