Mark Bobo:	Mark Bobo - mbobo@ohioschoolboards.org
Kathy McFarland:	Quote I shared: "I reserve the right to make a better decision with new information" before or after the business part of the meeting so there's no return to public session?
Sue:
Sally Green:	Can we have some in-person and those who can't use Zoom
Kathy McFarland:	Sara will be addressing executive sessions
vkeating:	Remember, even if you have the executive session at the very end of the zoom meeting, you will still have to return to a public session to adjourn.
	@Sue: We are setting up two separate zoom meetings, one that is just the Exec, and one that is the public meeting. We return to the public zoom to finish the public meeting business. We publish the entire public meeting as a recorded video.
CarolMohr:	cmohr@uaschools.org
	Hi, Sally: Sara noted that it is permissible for some people to attend in person and others to attend via zoom. Just make sure you are complying with all of the requirements for a virtual meeting and in-person meeting.
jhardin:
Debbie Dunlap:	away?
vkeating:	Yes, but inform them of other methods that are available so they can participate.
sally.green:	can you only allow board members in in to in person board meeting if you have live option for public Hi, Debbie: Some public bodies are having an overflow room, where people can view the video on a screen. Work with your IT department to set that up.
jhardin:
sally.green:	is a medical excuse needed for these people
	Bradford has a google meet in which I've invited our Board members and administration. Our tech director linked this to our youtube channel for the public. during exec. session we shut down the youtube with a "we will be right back slide" and then turn it back on for adjournment
Joe Hurst:
	Hi, Sally: Are you asking about people who want to talk expanded FMLA or emergency sick leave?
jhardin:
jhardin:	Sorry—take expanded FMLA or emergency sick leave.
	Sally, I think the answer to your question is if the board is having a live meeting, could they limit public participation to virtual? That is yes, they could.
vkeating:
sally.green:	medical excuse for those who do not want to return to work
	House Bill 164: https://www.legislature.ohio.gov/legislation/legislation-documents?id=GA133-HB-164
Will Schwartz:

Will - after this week the House will be on Summer recess so unless bills get passed tomorrow some issues will not get voted on. The Senate has 2 "if needed" sessions in late July and Julie's iPhone: done.

Julie's iPhone: This is Jennifer Hardin, deputy director of legal services. You can reach me at jhardin@ohioschoolboards.org jhardin: Nancy G from Groveport: Can you speak again about the religious expression? My internet is a little wonky today. thx!

nancy: Do these bills die if not voted on before the Legislative recess?

Sue: Good questions Jennifer Hardin and Sue!

CarolMohr: If your district needs assistance on transportation issues, check out OSBA's Virtual Transportation Supervisor Program. This subscription program offers T report support, a task calendar, transportation data and calculators and online resources.
