THE OHIO SCHOOL BOARDS ASSOCIATION

Serving the public school leadership team

OSBA's executive director earns national award for excellence

The National School Boards Association (NSBA) has chosen OSBA Executive Director Richard Lewis to receive the 2013 Thomas A. Shannon Award for Excellence. Lewis is being recognized as a school board association executive director who has put forth extraordinary efforts on behalf of NSBA, his state association, local school board constituencies and school communities. The award will be presented during the NSBA Leadership Conference on Jan. 26 in Washington, D.C. This is the second year in a row that an OSBA staff member has earned the honor. Greta Gardner, retired deputy director of policy services, received the award earlier this year.

Subscribe to the Briefcase electronically and receive it free

As yet another value-added component of OSBA membership, the association is once again offering the Briefcase newsletter free if all subscribers in a district sign up to receive it electronically. If anyone in the district wants to receive hard copies of the newsletter, the low annual subscription rate of $125 for up to 15 copies will still apply. Please indicate your district's preference on the OSBA membership invoice.

Louisiana school voucher law ruled unconstitutional

A Louisiana judge has ruled the state's school voucher law unconstitutional because it diverts taxpayer money to pay tuition at private and parochial schools for some students. The ruling came out of a lawsuit filed by the Louisiana School Boards Association, state teachers unions and 43 public school boards. The suit was supported by the National School Boards Association. Gov. Bobby Jindal and State Superintendent of Education John White said they will appeal the verdict.

ODE Summit bringing industry and education together

Ohio has more than 100,000 unfilled jobs, many because candidates do not have the necessary training. The Feb. 26-27 Ohio Economic-Education Summit will bring business, industry and education leaders together to help solve that problem and improve Ohio's economy. To learn more and register, go to www.economic.education.ohio.gov. Students bring holiday cheer to pets in need of homes

Youngstown City's Choffin Career & Technical Center students hope to bring some holiday cheer to furry friends down on their luck: pets with no place to call home.

Students in the center's biotechnology tech prep and health magnet programs are collecting items for homeless pets at three animal shelters in Mahoning County. "I'm sensitive to animals," junior Charidan Hilson told a local newspaper. "If no one is going to help them, then I think we should help them."

Students are collecting items at school such as dog food, cat food and cleaning supplies. A Christmas tree in the Choffin lobby is decorated with laminated paper dog bones and photos of dogs and cats at the animal shelters available for adoption.

OSBA staff adds IT administrator, transportation consultant

OSBA is excited to announce two staff members joined the association in October.

Former OSBA employee Drew Clark returned to the association as a senior information technology administrator in the Division of Communication Services. From 2007 to 2010, Clark served as OSBA's information services specialist. For the past two years, Clark worked as an IT manager for the Georgia School Boards Association in Lawrenceville, Ga.

Prior to joining OSBA in 2007, Clark was a technology specialist at Canton Local (Stark), where he taught video production and computer networking.

He serves as OSBA's technology administrator, responsible for day-to-day IT operations, as well as planning and implementing the association's technology initiatives.

A Canton native, Clark graduated from Canton Local's

Canton South High School. He holds a bachelor's degree in education, with an emphasis on theater and computer technology, from the University of Akron.

He can be reached at (800) 589-OSBA; (614) 540-4000; or dclark@ohioschoolboards.org.

Pete Japikse is OSBA's new senior transportation consultant in the Division of Management Services. Prior to joining the association, Japikse served as the state pupil transportation director for the Ohio Department of Education.

With Japikse's arrival, OSBA rolled out a new service to assist districts with their transportation needs. He will direct that service, consulting with districts on transportation issues such as safety and operations. His extensive knowledge and expertise will ensure members are well served in all areas related to school transportation.

Japikse is a Cincinnati native who graduated from Finneytown Local's (Hamilton) Finneytown High School. He continued his education at Miami University, where he earned a bachelor's degree in psychology. He also holds a master of business administration degree in management consulting from Xavier University.

by the OSBA legal services division

A gift from OSBA and OCSBA: a free resource guide

OSBA and the Ohio Council of School Board Attorneys (OCSBA) Executive Committee announce the release of a new ePublication, the "HR Desktop Reference Guide to School Law." The HR guide is a handy reference on laws related to public school employment in Ohio. It covers a variety of topics, including the hiring process, employment contracts, compensation, benefits and more. It also includes Web links to applicable statutes and relevant resources. Best of all, the reference is offered as a free resource. Download it at <http://links.ohioschoolboards.org/49174>.

The idea to offer a helpful, complimentary desktop reference guide for school board members and school administrators originated with the 2011 OCSBA Executive Committee and the OSBA legal division. OCSBA developed the content and revised it as legislative enactments changed the legal landscape. It is current through Senate Bill 316 (effective September 2012).

Board members and administrators will find useful resources as they manage and administer the public school system with its many employment-related components. The guide should be considered a resource with links to obtain more information. It is not a substitute for the assistance of competent legal counsel.

You may recognize your school attorney or his or her firm's name, below, as a contributing author of the HR guide. OSBA thanks everyone who contributed to this resource:

New board members: Trying to maneuver the maze of boardmanship? Find your way at the New Board Member Workshop

- Designed for new board members
- Intensive, one-day workshop
- Plenty of networking opportunities
- Saturday, Jan. 12, 9 a.m. to 4 p.m
- OSBA office, Columbus

School boardmanship is more complex and demanding than ever. To carry out their leadership duties effectively, new school board members must move from the role of an involved citizen to that of a responsible elected official as soon as possible. High-quality board member education, designed specifically for newly elected board members, can help you become a more effective educational leader in your community.

This intensive workshop will focus on:

- the world of boardmanship
- communicating effectively
- board policy 101
- how Ohio schools are funded
- collective bargaining and employee relations issues
- the Sunshine Law and executive sessions

Cost for the workshop is $160 per board member. Four books are included with workshop tuition: Boardmanship, Board-Treasurer Partnership, Board-Superintendent Partnership and Board-Legislature Partnership.

To register, call (614) 540-4000 or (800) 589-OSBA or register online at www.ohioschoolboards.org/event\_listing.

Become a better board leader

Attend the Board Presidents Workshop

Two dates and four locations to choose from:

- Saturday, Jan. 26, at the OSBA office in Columbus or Owens Community College in Findlay
- Saturday, Feb. 2, at the Dayton Marriott in Dayton or Northeast Ohio Medical University in Rootstown

The workshops run from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m.

These workshops, led by experienced OSBA staff, will present all the tools you need to improve your boardmanship skills and effectively lead your district. You don't have to be the board president to attend; board members looking to increase their leadership skills also can benefit.

School board presidents serve critical leadership roles in their districts. The president is the visible leader of the board and responsible for the efficient and legal operation of board business.

Unfortunately, too many board presidents attempt to fulfill these roles by going it alone and feel that on-the-job training is all they need to responsibly lead the board. It is crucial to you and a benefit to your school district to be well-informed and skillful enough to carry out your leadership duties effectively. Bring your questions about leadership roles.

Topics to be covered include legal issues affecting board members; effective board meetings; using parliamentary procedure effectively; dealing with controversy and public participation; open meetings and executive sessions; successful communications; working as a team; consensus building; indicators of an effective board; and networking with your colleagues.

Cost for the workshop is $160 per board member, and includes a copy of the Board Presidents' Handbook. To register, contact Laurie Miller, senior events manager, at (614) 540-4000, (800) 589-OSBA or Lmiller@ohioschoolboards.org. ## LEGISLATIVE REPORT

by Michelle Francis, deputy director of legislative services

Lawmakers wrap up report card bill, other education legislation

The Ohio General Assembly continued its busy lame-duck session in December and finished work on various bills impacting public schools. Following is a summary of the legislation, including House Bill (HB) 555, the report card reform bill.

Report card legislation

The Senate made changes to the House version of HB 555, both in the Senate Education Committee and on the Senate floor, before passing the bill on Dec. 12 with a 27-6 vote. OSBA still has some concerns with the final version of the bill, but believes significant progress has been made toward a better piece of legislation.

That progress was a direct result of grassroots advocacy and OSBA members' efforts. OSBA had a great response to its calls to action and senators heard members' voices. There are still issues that must be addressed in the coming months, and OSBA is analyzing the final language the Senate adopted and that the House concurred with.

Senate changes to HB 555 include:

- No letter grades on individual college and career-ready components of the dashboard.
- Directing the State Board of Education to develop standards for "industry credentials" — one of the college and career-ready components of the dashboard that would recognize students' achievement in career-technical education programs.
- Expanding the list of teacher qualifications for purposes of the reading endorsement related to the third-grade reading guarantee. This was a direct response to strong feedback from the field on provisions in Senate Bill 316.
- Letter grades will be used for the existing report card components for this school year, but no composite score will be assigned (no letter grade or overall designation).
- No new items will be graded on the report card for the current school year.
- No new dashboard components will be reported on the report card for the current school year, except the annual measureable objectives, which replace adequate yearly progress (AYP) measures.

- Requiring the State Board to develop a "safe-harbor" provision that protects schools against EdChoice and "challenged school district" status for the first year after the PARCC (Partnership for Assessment of Readiness for College and Careers) assessments become effective. The Senate Education Committee adopted a "safe-harbor" provision, but later discovered flaws in that amendment. So, a Senate floor amendment deferred the responsibility for developing the provision to the State Board.

These changes would not have been possible without OSBA members' involvement. OSBA has a commitment from the Senate Education Committee chair to continue working with the association on some outstanding issues with the new report card system going into the next General Assembly session. OSBA urges members to contact their legislators to thank them for the positive changes in the bill. OSBA also strongly encourages members to let legislators know they want to continue working with them on the areas where concerns remain.

If you have questions about the changes to the bill, please feel free to contact OSBA's legislative staff. A workshop is being developed to cover the education-related legislative changes that occurred in the lame-duck session, including HB 555. Mark your calendars for Feb. 11 and watch for more specific information on this workshop.

Suicide prevention bill

HB 543, sponsored by Rep. Marlene Anielski (R-Walton Hills), requires schools to incorporate youth suicide awareness and prevention training into school district in-service training requirements.

The bill requires school districts, community (charter) schools, STEM (science, technology, engineering and math) schools and educational service centers to provide training in youth suicide awareness and prevention to all teachers, administrators, counselors, nurses, school psychologists and any other personnel considered appropriate. The training counts toward professional development required by the employer and can be accomplished through self-review of suitable suicide prevention materials approved by the employer.

The training must be incorporated into the in-service training required by existing law for school nurses, teachers, administrators, school counselors and school psychologists. The bill does not expand the number of current in-service training hours, and free materials are being provided to school districts through The Jason Foundation Inc. and other behavioral health providers.

The language of the bill officially identifies it as the "Jason Flatt Act" in honor of Joe Anielski, Rep. Anielski's son, who passed away in 2010. The House and the Senate have passed the bill; it will go into effect 90 days after the governor signs it.

Concussion legislation

HB 143, cosponsored by Reps. Mike Stinziano (D-Columbus) and Sean O'Brien (D-Brookfield), requires training for coaches and referees on youth head injuries, as well as procedures to follow with youth showing signs of brain injury.

Specifically, the bill does the following:
● prohibits schools from allowing

a student to practice or compete in interscholastic athletics until the student has submitted a signed form stating that the student and the student's parent or guardian have received a concussion and head injury information sheet created by the Ohio Department of Health;

● prohibits schools from allowing an individual to coach interscholastic athletics without holding an Ohio Department of Education pupil-activity program permit;

● prohibits schools from allowing an individual to referee interscholastic athletics without holding a pupil-activity program permit or successfully completing an online training program in recognizing concussion symptoms or a training program authorized and required by an organization that regulates interscholastic conferences or events;

● requires coaches and referees to remove students exhibiting signs, symptoms or behaviors consistent with having a concussion or head injury from practice or competition;

● prohibits coaches and referees from allowing a student to return to practice or competition until the student has been assessed and cleared for return by a physician or any other licensed health care provider authorized by the school.

Under the legislation, schools that are subject to the rules of an interscholastic conference, such as the Ohio High School Athletic Association, are considered to be

PUBLIC SCHOOLS WORK!

compiled by Bryan Bullock, assistant editor

Rural southeast Ohio districts create pioneering virtual school

Three southeast Ohio school districts have partnered to create a virtual Early College High School — the first of its kind in the state, and a possible model for other rural schools to follow.

Crooksville EV, Morgan Local (Morgan) and New Lexington City recently received a federal Race to the Top Innovative Grant for $561,000 over a four-year period to develop the Web-based school, known as The Rural Ohio College High School (ROCHS).

High school students from the three districts will be able to take college-level courses online through ROCHS and remain on their home campus. The ROCHS faculty will be instructors from the districts who are qualified to teach college-level courses and partnering college professors; students will meet for face-to-face activities, instructional sessions or lab courses as needed.

Students will have the opportunity to earn an associate degree, or college junior standing, along with a high school diploma. The ROCHS program began last summer with the selection of three cohorts of students at grades seven, nine and 11. Students will have a compacted curriculum so they are prepared for college courses by 11th grade.

ROCHS plans to encourage students who are first-generation college enrollees to participate.
