District & Community

The Salem City Schools are located in Salem Ohio on the northern border of Columbiana County. The District includes all of the city of Salem as well as parts of Perry Twp. in both Columbiana and Mahoning Counties.

With a population of about 12,000, Salem offers a small-town feel with access to many big-city amenities. Its downtown and residential historic districts harken back to Salem's rich past while expansions of the local community center and hospital speak to its present growth.

The schools have a strong academic and extracurricular tradition with students benefiting from more AP course offerings than any school in the region, access to Kent Salem Campus for college-level courses, as well as a nationally recognized high school alumni association that awards over $350,000 in scholarships annually to graduating seniors. In recent years the District has made significant investments in classroom technology and remodeling of classrooms. More about Salem City Schools can be found at:
