

BRIEF CASE

THE OHIO SCHOOL BOARDS ASSOCIATION

Serving the public school leadership team

Conference hotel reservation process opens Sept. 21

The reservation process for Capital Conference hotel rooms begins Wednesday, Sept. 21, at 9 a.m. Reservations may be made on a first-come, first-served basis. You must be registered for the conference or exhibiting in the Trade Show to request conference housing. After you are registered for the conference, your contact person will receive a confirmation email with information about housing, the housing link and unique housing code. School board members and other administrators simply need to contact their treasurer or superintendent to register. For housing details, a list of hotels, deadlines and a webinar on the housing process, visit <http://conference.ohioschoolboards.org/housing>. Visit <http://conference.ohioschoolboards.org> to register and view more conference information.

Districts must use ESSER funds by Sept. 30

The first of the government's three Elementary and Secondary School Emergency Relief (ESSER) stimulus funds must be allocated for use by Sept. 30, 2022. These grants were intended to help schools hire more staff, avoid layoffs and transition safely to in-person learning. They were awarded to departments of education in all 50 states, which then in turn awarded them to districts. The Ohio Department of Education received $489.2 million from the first wave of the program, the majority of which was paid out in subsidies as well as smaller grants. Recipients are expected to return any funds not spent before the Sept. 30 deadline. A detailed fact sheet for educators is available here: <http://links.ohioschoolboards.org/oh/esser>.

New graduation criteria takes effect in 2022-23 school year

The new graduation seal system adopted in 2019 will be in effect for the first time with the class of 2023. After several years of gradual modification to graduation benchmarks, this year's crop of high school seniors will choose any two of 12 seals, indicating specific markers of college or career readiness, to earn alongside their required 20 high school course credits. At least one seal must come from a set of nine defined by the state, while the other may fulfill requirements set by the individual district or school. Detailed information about the requirements is available at <http://links.ohioschoolboards.org/67658>.

Transportation resources available through state, OSBA

After two years of remote classes, irregular schedules and staffing shortages, the new school year finds an unusually high number of districts hiring new transportation supervisors and bus drivers. In light of these circumstances, the Ohio Department of Education will be accepting applications for the Transportation

October is National Bullying Prevention Month

Next month, schools across the country will renew their commitments to address and prevent bullying by celebrating National Bullying Prevention Month. Bullying is a critical issue for student safety and success, and the observance provides a perfect opportunity for educators to update their knowledge and share the latest research with colleagues and parents in their districts. A recent study ranked Ohio No. 23 in a list of states with the most at-risk youth. While this places the state close to the national average, it also serves as a reminder that we should all do our part to ensure kids dealing with addiction, poverty, abuse and other hardships receive the support they need. An ideal starting point for education leaders is OSBA’s resource page on barriers to student achievement, which offers links to toolkits for addressing attendance issues, inequality, mental illness and more. Visit www.leadingourlearners.org/overcoming-barriers-to-achievement, via OSBA’s Leading Our Learners student achievement microsite, to find information that will help your students do their best.

Granville EV superintendent joins marching band

Granville EV’s Granville High School Marching Blue Aces welcomed a guest performer at the football team’s home opener Aug. 26 — Superintendent Jeffrey R. Brown.

Brown joined the band for a pregame performance of Metallica’s “Enter Sandman.” He had asked Band Director Jerod Smith to include music from Metallica, his favorite band, for years. Smith finally gave in this fall.

“They granted my wish, but it came with strings attached,” Brown told a local newspaper. He jumped at the chance to play the drums as a way of showing students they can be life-long learners.

“Even at my age, 50 years old, you can scratch something off your bucket list and learn something new,” he said.

Regional fall conferences begin in a few weeks

School is back in session, and that means it's time to register for your OSBA region's fall conference. Held in the fall and spring, the region conferences bring hundreds of board members, administrators, guests and students together for dinner, networking, learning and celebrations of achievement.

The events feature keynote speakers, awards ceremonies and performances from outstanding student groups. The fall conferences also include the elections for the upcoming year's regional officers.

OSBA President Robert M. Heard Sr., Cleveland Municipal, and staff, including OSBA Chief Executive Officer Rick Lewis, OSBA Deputy Chief Executive Dr. Kathy McFarland and OSBA Senior

Membership Engagement Consultant Mark E. Bobo, will provide association updates at the the conferences. Members of OSBA's Division of Legislative Services also will offer the latest information on state legislation impacting public education.

Event details are available on the OSBA website at www.ohioschoolboards.org/regions. Click on your respective region, then click on the conference flier under "Resources" on the upper right corner of the webpage. You can register online at www.ohioschoolboards.org/events. If you have questions about your reservation, please contact Melanie Price, OSBA senior administrative assistant of communication services, at (614) 540-4000, (800) 589-OSBA or mprice@ohioschoolboards.org.

School board members will earn five credits toward the OSBA Training Award for attending a region conference. For more information on the Training Award, visit www.ohioschoolboards.org/star-awards or contact OSBA. In addition, Ohio Revised Code Section 3315.15 authorizes the establishment of a service fund for board members. Such funds can be used for expenses incurred for meetings such as this.

Following is a preview of what each region has planned for its conference.

10:30 a.m. First Amendment and school employees after Kennedy

The intersection between the establishment clause and school employees' free speech and free exercise rights was considered earlier this year by the U.S. Supreme Court in Kennedy v. Bremerton School District. This session will review the court's decision, discuss how it could apply in other situations and look at how state and federal laws could affect these rights in the future.

12:30 p.m. Harassment and discrimination in the workplace

Several state and federal laws, such as Title VII of the Civil Rights Act, the Americans with Disabilities Act, the Age Discrimination in Employment Act and others, impose requirements on employers — including school boards — to provide workplaces free of harassment and discrimination. Training, preparation and knowledge about how to respond effectively to harassment and discrimination complaints in the workplace are key to meeting these requirements.

Review required policies, best practices for employee training, district responses to allegations and how to handle investigations. Sherrie Massey, Esq., and Scott C. Peters, Esq., Peters Kalail & Markakis Co. LPA

Marysville EV students create anti-bullying game, win award

A group of Marysville EV Marysville High School students want to expand an anti-bullying program that won them a national award and $5,000.

The High Five REACT Club won the award given by Invent2Prevent, a program that empowers university and high school students to develop innovative projects that help prevent targeted violence and terrorism.

The REACT club's name stands for Respect, Equality, Acceptance, Communication and Trust.

"Our group was really shocked," senior Jake Shafer told a local TV station. "I was just so excited."

Shafer was among five students who presented their project to a panel of judges in Washington, D.C., in the spring.

Students were tasked with identifying issues related to targeted acts of violence in their local community and developing solutions that could be applied across multiple communities.

The group developed a mentorship strategy and created a board game to build relationships and encourage social and emotional learning with elementary school students.

High Five REACT was among three finalists in the Invent2Prevent high school competition. Seventeen high schools submitted final projects.
